Dear John:

Thank you for your September 13, 1990 letter regarding the outstanding official action in this case. As we do not have a translation of the action itself, it is difficult to formulate detailed instructions for response. In any event, I suspect the Examiner merely states that the claims are not novel over the references. That being the case, I believe I have already imparted to you all of our knowledge regarding the distinctions of the claimed invention over Reynolds-type devices. If you have any specific questions, please let me know.

In the postscript to your letter, you refer to an August 7, 1990 letter that you report was inadvertently captioned "Nigeria." We have not received any such letter. If any action is required, please let me know.

Very truly yours,

JHI:bas
